Letter to Morrisville
Borough Council

Council Considers Drilling
Deep Well for Water Supply

MOORISVILLE, Apr. 20—A demand has been made upon borough council that Neal Nolan, dismissed as local water rent collector, be reinstated. His dismissal is claimed to have been without legal basis.

Barrett & Monroe, Bristol attorneys, advised the council that the dismissal of Neal Nolan as local water rent collector was without legal basis. In a letter read at Tuesday's meeting, the law firm demanded that Nolan be continued as the borough's water rent collector for the next two years.

Nolan, who was appointed water rent collector in January, was ousted from his position shortly after and Tax Collector Harry T. Christ was named to the post.

Although no action was taken on the letter, it was referred to the finance committee for consideration.

A resolution seeking acceptance of a New York company's recommendation to drill a deep well as a supplement to Morrisville's present water supply was rejected at a meeting of Borough Council Tuesday.

The deep well proposal, which would cost an estimated $69,000, according to the Lane New York Co., was defeated after a bitter argument between new Councilmen Nicholas Misan and Albert Greco. Misan, who made the motion, said he had given the measure considerable thought, adding that it was time action was taken. In opposing the motion, Greco pointed out that he had not been in office long enough to study the situation thoroughly.

The measure was defeated by a five to three vote.

Big Turnout Expected
For Model Flying Circus

Reports received by the contest committee from other model clubs lead members to believe there will be a large turnout of contestants at the Aeromodelers' second annual model flying circus on May 21st. A number of contestants from clubs in Upper Darby, Glenside, Ardmore, Chester, Norristown, Philadelphia, Newtown, Quakertown, Bristol, Haddon and other nearby districts plan to compete for over $200 in prizes.

Although this contest is restricted to southeastern Pennsylvania, clubs in New York, New Jersey and even a club in Boston, Mass., have expressed their desire to enter. It is stated "This will not be permitted because the size of the flying area to be used is too small to accommodate such a large number of entrants. The flying site for the affair located on the school board's tract of land on Route 13 is now being reconditioned by discing and rolling to make a smooth surface for flying models. The field will also be used to a great extent beginning this week-end until late fall by Aeromodelers. Wednesday meetings will be held on the field each week beginning May 3rd. A point system contest will go into effect on Sunday, and all club members are asked to turn out for the flying session where the contest will start.

CLEANED BY SCRIBES

Mrs. Elizabeth Williams took six of her eighth grade class of Warwick township school on a trip to Wilkes-Barre recently. The pupils, who are working on a Pennsylvania project, enjoyed seeing many of the places of interest they have been studying.

The inspection of the breakers and collieries of the coal mines, near Wilkes-Barre, was the highlight of the trip. A cave in Wilkes-Barre was most unusual. It is unique because only raw materials are purchased and employees make everything used in the restaurant. The boys and girls made a tour of the kitchen, bakery, laundry, recreation rooms and grocery store.

Enroute they saw an experimental fire tower station on one of the state mountain reservations. They were intrigued at seeing the mountain called "Shadow of Death," where the Wyoming Valley massacre occurred. Lehigh University, the slate quarries, the steel mills and Moravian Church, Bethlehem, were enjoyed.

Those profiting from this educational trip: Joanne Atkinson, Julia Nash, Joan Breuninger, Clayton Fell, Fred Kelly and Charles Keyser.

CLEAN-UP PLANS
ABOUT COMPLETEDReports Indicate That Everything Is In Readiness For The Campaign

DETAILS REVIEWED

Harold N. Crooker, chairman of the 1950 Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up campaign sponsored by the Bristol Chamber of Commerce, held the last general committee meeting Tuesday evening in the municipal building. Practically all details for the current campaign—May 1st through May 15th—were completed. Burgess I. J. Hetherington was the speaker of the evening.

"All committees are organized and ready to go to work to make the campaign the best one Bristol ever had," Mr. Crooker stated. He presented Burgess Hetherington.

"There is not any nice activity a town can have than a clean-up campaign. We have a very active Chamber of Commerce here in Bristol and it is the organization which is back of this campaign. I know what it is doing for Bristol. It has two activities that are very good for the betterment of the town—the clean-up, paint-up and fix-up campaign and youth week. We all know the work being done in beautifying the entrances to the borough. On this project the co-operation of Iohn & Haas Company has been given. The Chamber of Commerce is spending a lot of money on this project. This is all being done for our benefit as residents of the town. This means we will have an extra selling card in talking about our home town.

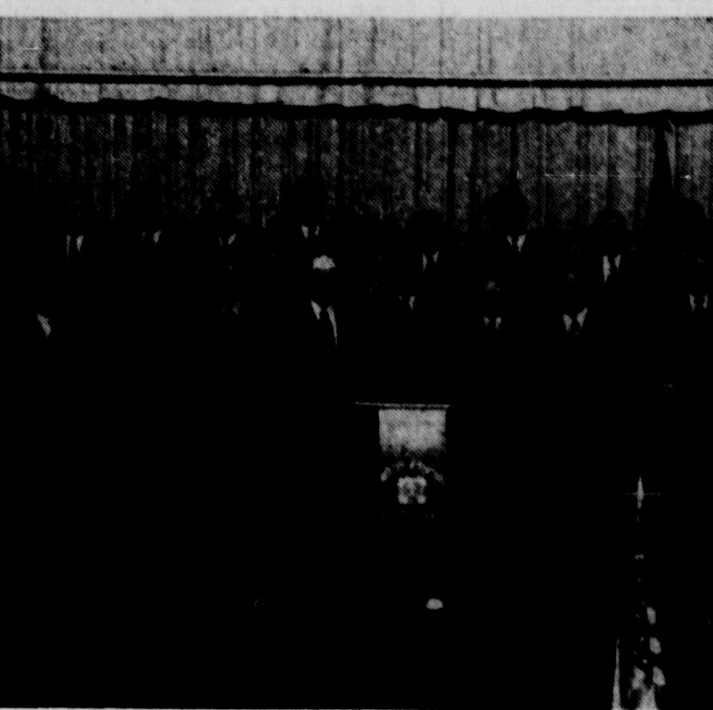

"The school board, borough council and the Chamber of Commerce are working hand in hand in making Bristol a better place to live in, and a town we all will be proud of. Plans are made for a new high school which will be a credit to the borough. Bristol is a growing place and one of the best in the country. We should all as residents—Continued on Page Two

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan

The Texas fier who looped the loop 1,374 times in six hours could have gotten the same effect attending a senate committee hearing . . . and in less time.

He got out of his plane feeling like a man who had paid his taxes, counted his balance and heard a statement on our greater prosperity all in one day.

No one knows just why a man would loop-the-loop at the rate of 300 times per hour but he may be a candidate practicing for the fall elections.

This is the year we try to give Harry the kind of legislators that would please him . . . It's kind of difficult because they've got to be living.

Jimmie Roosevelt has already gotten labor's political league endorsement in California and Gov. Warren may have to run with just people backing him.

Young Franklin says he doesn't want to be governor of New York (just now) and Elliott is sticking to producing TV programs which sometimes are as entertaining as congress.

Czechoslovakia, calling the United States Information Service a headquarters for espionage and propaganda, demanded yesterday that its offices in Prague and Bratislava be closed and that the American press attaché be recalled.

In Washington, an aroused Senate unanimously approved a resolution for posthumous decorations for the ten men on the Navy Privateer allegedly shot down by Soviet fighters over the Baltic. Indications that Moscow would reject the protest over the incident were seen in a Soviet magazine article demanding punishment for the Americans responsible.

The West will win the "cold war" because "history and morality are on our side" and internal pressures will break down Moscow's control, Ambassador Harriman forecast.

Senate Republicans approved President Truman's approach to consult them on the forming and implementing of foreign policy. The President will make a major foreign policy speech before an editors' convention today. He proposed a national register of qualified persons, regardless of party, from which to draw appointees for top Government posts.

A House committee, unable to agree on a 50 per cent across-the-board cut of excise taxes, reduced the levy on cameras and supplies by that amount. The House trimmed by $1,700,000 the $29,045,930,164 omnibus appropriations bill.

President Truman signed the bill for a ten-year program of economic aid to the Navajo and Hopi Indians.

Penn. in the opinion of Western Allied officials, is intensifying its pressure to win further concessions at the Foreign Ministers' meeting next month. Chancellor Adenauer said he saw no harm in having led Berliners in singing "Deutschland Heber Alles."

The Soviet Union reversed its stand and withdrew support of internationalization of Jerusalem under the United Nations.

New Hampshire revoked the license of Dr. Sander to practice medicine but left a loophole for reinstatement.

THE PICKEREL'S MARATHON

The Navy is making it hard for anyone except submarine experts to evaluate the 5,200-mile trip which has just been completed by the submarine Pickerel. The exciting thing about this trip, of course, is the fact that the submarine sailed the entire distance without surfacing once.

There was considerable to do just after the war over captured German naval documents which showed that Nazi snorkel type U-boats had cruised submerged for as long as 10 days at a time. If such was the case the Pickerel's feat indicates there has been considerable improvement in U. S. submarines in the relatively short period since the war.

But a cruise the length of the Pickerel's must confront the Navy with a host of problems. How, for instance, did the crew fare under the 21-day stretch of inaction? Running at snorkel depth, the diesel engines, gulp their air through the streamlined device that barely breaks the surface. Whenever a wave laps over the snorkel mechanism a valve closes the sub's "windpipe" momentarily.

During that brief period the engines suck air from the inside of the sub itself. This intermittent blast and wheeze might be expected to get on a person's nerves. Submarines always were a different breed of cat from their surface-bound colleagues. Technological developments often must halt until the human element catches up.

FLOUR MILLS CLOSE

More than 100 flour mills in the United States have suspended operations since 1947 and more are reported to be on the verge of throwing in the sponge. Slump in milling operations is attributable to decreased per capita consumption of flour in the United States and decline in foreign demand.

United States flour is at a disadvantage with the Canadian product because of the export price situation. This country supports wheat prices at a higher level than Canada.

United States flour mills are still producing at a great rate but increased costs of production and decreased demand have proved disastrous to what are termed "marginal" mills.

The plain fact is that the average American is not consuming as much flour as previously and export markets are shrinking steadily. And that should be of concern not only to the miller but also to the farmer, who must ultimately find a legitimate market for his wheat. It is conceivable that the American taxpayer, given plenty of time, may rebel against buying something he doesn't want.

The President's proposals would take a billion dollars more a year out of the pockets of hundreds of thousands of people who employ any workers whatever, even one. They are obviously intended as vote catching bait.

Thermometer is rising now, but not as fast as the national debt.

Clean-Up Plans About Completed

of this fine community lend our efforts to some movement, no matter what shape or form, to help improve it."

Burgess Hetherington said: "I feel the Chamber of Commerce is doing a good job in their yearly clean-up campaigns. The effects of it are growing year to year. The women have played a very important part in this fine work, women are always the most active in any campaign and in all phases of our lives. It is the women who are the 'builders-uppers'. They see to it there are clean places for children to play."

In closing Burgess Hetherington said: "Mr. Crocker has a big job on his hands to make this campaign a success as I am sure it will be. His different committee chairmen do a lot for him in making his efforts to help build Bristol a success. I am willing to lend my efforts to such a fine program at any time. All residents of this town should get in back of this campaign and make it the best one yet."

Mr. Crocker told of the plans and work done so far in getting ready for the campaign. He said: "I have received many very good responses from every one so far. A number of members could not be here tonight because of other meetings and illnesses, but most of them have sent in their reports. Display material has been distributed and the Mill Street Business Men and the Harriman Business Men have all agreed to cooperate with the committee in displaying the material. The street banners are up and speakers are ready when needed."

"Mrs. John Johnson is unable to be here tonight but sent in the following report: 'An essay contest is to be carried out in the seventh and eighth grades of the Bristol public schools and St. Mark's and St. Ann's parochial schools. The subject will be "What can I, as a youth or as a member of an organization, do to improve my neighborhood or my community?"'

The essays are to be written the week of May 1st to May 5th and the judges go over them between May 8th and May 15th. The judges are as follows: Dr. George T. Fox, chairman; John Paglione, Mrs. Aron Moskovits, John S. Lynn, Dr. P. M. Vassaluzzo, and Dr. John J. Hargrave.

Photo contest committee reported that the final details for the contest are expected to be worked out tomorrow night.

William H. Pearson, reporting for the vacant lot committee, said that he had called a meeting of his committee but only one person attended so that not too much had been done in the way of vacant lots. "The borough entrance program will take several years to finish," Mr. Crocker stated. "It is a long term program and it is going along very good. The Pennsylvania Railroad is donating several car loads of fill for the dump so that things are getting to the point that it will not be too much longer when you will be able to see the results of this program."

For the fire prevention committee, Chief Clifford Hagerman reported that the committee is working on fire prevention and will have some public releases soon.

David Hertzler, high school principal, reporting for the school committee, said notices went out to the different teachers to make plans to take part in the clean-up program in the class rooms. The borough schools are organized to take a very active part in the campaign.

The trash removal committee reported plans for the campaign are just about complete. It was stated that extra trucks are expected to make extra pick-ups of trash. If the people will put the trash in boxes or other containers it will make it a lot easier.

Inspection of Automobiles Has Cut Accident Rate

Inspection Stations and the Pennsylvania motor vehicle inspection law has helped cut Pennsylvania's accident rate caused by vehicles with mechanical defects down to four per cent as compared to a national average of 17 per cent, W. H. Alexander, Area Inspection Chairman for the Pennsylvania Automotive Association, declared last night at a meeting of inspection station operators and inspection mechanics from the Fourth District, held at Torano's Garage.

Lou Preitz, State Police Garage Supervisor, explained new regulations in the inspection law and conducted a discussion on the official rules and regulations for the inspection stations at the meeting, one of nearly 200 similar meetings being held throughout the Commonwealth by the Pennsylvania Automotive Association, which represents over 3000 new car dealers and independent garages in the State.

Explaining that the inspection law was written 21 years ago with the support of P. A. A., Mr. Alexander said he felt it "has been largely through the efforts of inspection stations and the law that the Pennsylvania accident rate has been substantially lowered."

"Due to the ever-increasing number and use of the automobile," he continued, "the association feels the need and responsibility for maintaining motor vehicles in good mechanical condition."

"Vehicles in need of mechanical repairs were found in 13 per cent of all fatal traffic accidents in 1949," the area chairman stated. "Last year 31,500 persons were killed in traffic accidents costing $2,800,000 in property damage."

Stressing the need for inspection of motor vehicles, Mr. Alexander cited figures showing that 42 per cent of today's vehicles are 10 years or more old as compared to only 17 per cent before the war.

"The automotive industry feels that it has a definite responsibility to the public to improve safety on the highways," he concluded. "P. A. A. has always supported motor vehicle inspection by strict adherence to regulations, maintenance of high standards and training of mechanics, and will continue to uphold this worthwhile life-saving program."

TNT SEAT

EAST GRINSTEAD, Sussex, Eng. —(INS)—For at least six years Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Connold were literally sitting on dynamite. Recently Mrs. Connold had a couch upholstered. In it the upholsterers discovered an unexploded cannon shell fired from a German aircraft in 1943.

KEN KEENE THE CORNER DRUGGIST

Ken Keene was unpacking a crate of tooth paste when I walked in, and just to make conversation, I asked:
"How far did you have to go to get that stuff?"
"I didn't go anywhere," Ken said. "With our marvelous transportation system, it was delivered right to my doorstep."
"That's fine," I said, "but that's a big part of the cost of that little tube you're going to sell me, isn't it?"
"You'd be surprised," he said. "I can't tell you to the tenth of a cent, but I can tell you that the transportation cost is a mighty small part of the 59 cents you're going to pay me. And besides—"

And Ken was off again, so I settled down to listen to his day's contribution to my education.
"You know," he said, "We've got the greatest transportation system in the world in this country. And I'm talking about the whole system too . . . railroads, trucks, buses, airlines, waterways, pipelines . . . the works."
"How do you suppose we'd like it if the government was running the transportation system?" They tell me that it would be the first thing to go nationalized. You know, while it's a great system as a private enterprise, it has a rough time keeping its head above water."
"I know," Ken went on, "that I'd not stay in business very long if I couldn't see a reasonable profit for all my work. And that's the way it is in the transportation business."
"And can you imagine what would happen to service and rates, and everything else, if the government were running the transportation system? Excuse me from anything like that, please."

When you note the charm of a lady wrestler in a pre-match television interview, and later see her viciously jumping on a prone opponent, you naturally wonder just which is "the act."

Remind those kids of yours to look in both directions when alighting from the school-bus. Remind them often.

Bats and guinea pigs can be killed with high frequency sound waves. Science has not said whether equally fatal results might follow exposure of the animals to those ordinary sound waves of too great frequency—the radio "commercials".

The widening use of natural gas calls for a check-up of gas pipes and equipment. Regular inspection of any type of heating or cooking equipment should be followed as a matter of safety.

Because, he claims, 74% of husbands help their wives with the dishes, a Chicago manufacturer of a new electric dishwasher will advertise to the man of the house. O.K. Bud, I'll listen—if you promise not to describe your product by using that threadbare adjective "Amazing!"

New Committee To Work For Candidates

to be promoted jointly under the name of "the Victory ticket."

Under the committee's auspices, the two most recent former Republican governors—former Governor James and U. S. Senator Edward Martin—will launch the drive for this ticket next week. Governor James will broadcast on a statewide hookup next Monday evening, and Senator Martin on the following Wednesday.

State headquarters have been opened in suite 901-2-3, Bellevue-Stratford Hotel. For many years this was Governor James' suite, both during the years when he was on the superior court, and while governor. This was his personal headquarters from which he conducted his successful primary and general election campaigns for the governorship in 1938.

In making the announcement, Governor James issued the following statement:

"I am stepping out of private life and back into the political arena with a great deal of reluctance. I have no personal ambitions in politics whatever, and under ordinary circumstances would be entirely content to watch this campaign from the sidelines.

"But these are not ordinary circumstances.

"If the Republican voters, with full knowledge of the facts, were voluntarily to decide that they wanted Governor Duff and Judge Fine to represent them in next Fall's campaign against Senator Myers and Dilworth, I would feel that they were making a serious mistake, but I would not attempt to interfere.

"But there is nothing voluntary about the way the Duff-Fine campaign is being run. They are conducting a mailed-first campaign which is unworthy of men who aspire to leadership of the Republican Party.

"The persuasive factor in my judgment, however, has less to do with the primary than with the general election.

"Isn't it obvious that a Republican ticket next fall which contained the name of either Duff or Fine wouldn't have a ghost of a chance at the hands of the whole people of this state?

"Can anyone imagine any circumstance under which the men and women of Pennsylvania would accept Judge Fine as their Governor, after his career has been fully explored—as it will be, it goes without saying, by the Democrats in the Fall campaign?

"Neither can anyone imagine that the people of this Commonwealth will support the man who hand-picked Judge Fine for the Governorship, and rammed his choice through by outrageous pressure tactics at the pre-campaign conferences of county chairmen, most of whom were on the state payroll. I refer to Governor Duff.

"The Duff-Fine drive has been one of disunity, division, dissension and coercion. When before have we ever seen a man who aspired to be a political leader set out to solidify his party by splitting it asunder?

"A Duff-Fine victory next May 16 would result in wrecking the Republican Party for years to come. It would head us straight for disaster next November, turn the clock back in this state for twelve full years to the days of the Little New Deal at Harrisburg—and almost certainly destroy all hopes of a Republican comeback nationally two years from now.

"The one possible way to head off these catastrophes, is to nominate on May 16 men who inspire confidence among Republicans and against whom naught can be said—men who believe in unity rather than dissension, co-operation rather than dictatorship."

Letters are on file with the Secretary of the Commonwealth in Harrisburg from each of the candidates, specifically authorizing the Republican Citizens Victory Committee to receive and disburse money, and to incur liabilities, in their behalf during this primary campaign.

Necks Need Beauty Care

Courtesy Fuller Brush-Dagget & Remond

With new fashions emphasizing the plunging neckline, give extra attention to your throat. It needs at least one daily application of a good cream.

By HELEN FOLLETT

IT sometimes happens that a woman will lose the beauty race by a neck. Her ambrosial locks are thick and lustrous, beautifully arranged. Her face still carries the radiance of youth, her complexion is smooth and fair. She is proud of a figure of good lines. But, alas and alack! Her neck looks old. With all her good looks efforts she has overlooked its cosmetic needs. How come? The answer is easy. It never occurred to her to apply nourishing creams below the place where her Adam's apple would be, if she had one.

The skin surface of the neck can go dry because of lack of lubrication. If the head is carried forward or the chin low, the muscles have no work to do, so they soften, and overlying tissues sag. That is the time when fiddle strings appear. Or necklace lines have dug into the flesh. The remedy: Plenty of up and down massage with cream-anointed hands, the habit of carrying the head balanced, the use of a bleaching lotion now and then.

How the neck is dressed is important, especially if it does not qualify for good looks laurels. A high, close collar shortens the face, or seems to, and is favorable if the face is long and thin.

The round neckline tends to carry the eye across the face and neck, increasing the apparent width of the countenance. Therefore, the plump type should never wear it, but employ the V cut.

The square pattern is a happy choice for the girl with the oval face. Pointed collars, beloved by college girls, make the face seem longer, less full. They are especially appropriate for sport's wear.

Too many folds, curves or other details of neckwear tend to accentuate irregularities of the features, to make the too-full face seem even heavier, the too-thin one sharp and angular.

Soft, smoothly flowing rhythmic lines, rather than those that are harsh and rigid in outline, are flattering to nearly all types of faces.

Many Attend Show Given For Police Pension Fund

The benefit for the Bristol Police Pension Fund staged at the Grand Theatre, last evening, attracted a good size audience. Edward Lynn, manager of the theatre, introduced Burgess I. J. Hetherington, who spoke, after which he introduced the master of ceremonies.

The performance of the Pennell String Band was very well received and the renditions by the band were excellent. Jim Reynolds acted as master of ceremonies.

The acts included: Captain Shaw, and Pobble the wonder monkey; The Three Sheldons, dance and tumbling act; Whitey Fields, comedy juggler; Vantine & Cazen, escape artist and novelty magic act.

The prelude to the show last evening, which was staged on the streets here yesterday afternoon, and also in the cell-block of police headquarters, attracted a large crowd. Pond street, from Wilson avenue to Mill street, was lined with people; as were also Mill street and police headquarters.

The crowds on the sidewalks gazed in utter amazement as Miss Cazan, of the team of Vantine and Cazan, blind-folded, guided the automobile of Chief of Police Linford J. Jones over the route. Traffic was at the noon-hour peak, but Miss Cazan appeared to experience little difficulty as she steered the car in and out of traffic to the destination. The blind-fold was placed upon her under the supervision of Chief Jones at the starting point; and the chief and Miss Cazan's manager accompanied her. On Mill street Miss Cazan was shackled to the wheels of the car from which she reversed herself with little difficulty.

At police headquarters there was a howling, milling mob of children and adults. Women with babes in their arms, and youngsters carrying dogs crowded in to the municipal building to view the spectacle of Miss Cazan freeing herself from hand-cuffs and leg-irons. Miss Cazan, a diminutive blonde, was shackled by Freeman Wilson, Jr., 12, of Spruce street, who was selected to represent the children. Wilson attached the leg irons and then two sets of hand-cuffs to each wrist, which in turn were locked to the bars of one of the cells. The crowd stood several deep, watching this performance, and then was asked to leave the room for a few minutes. It was only a matter of minutes before Miss Cazan was knocking upon the door and walked out free of any encumbrances.

She was then besieged by a horde of autograph hunters, and she obligingly accommodated them by writing her signature on small slips of paper.

tion they received from Mrs. Louis Ashton, school nurse. Virginia also invited the visitors to examine the free health material received on pupil request from various companies.

David Carlen, Joan Angus and Curtis Conn were particularly happy about their experiences in the Bensalem high school chemistry laboratory. Motivated by this interest, these pupils performed several science experiments which involved directed observation of the audience in drawing conclusions regarding the test results.

David Brown and Joseph Brown told about the work activities of the high school secretaries as related to them, when these two pupils interviewed secretaries, Miss Mary Ashton and Miss Ann Aches.

A. Kurtz King's superintendent of schools, visit to the third and fourth grade room was discussed by Lynne Githens and Barbara Fields. The boys and girls were eager to relate that the superintendent's favorite job was to "watch boys and girls grow in their work."

Reading charts, recording the work of the elementary supervisor, Mrs. Elsie Duhorn, were presented by Tony Day. Gail Fleming invited the visitors to examine individual booklets made by the pupils during the development of the School Unit.

Mrs. Arlene Way, teacher of the combination third and fourth grade has prepared a log of the day by day development of this particular unit. It will be useful as source material for Bensalem teachers anticipating the launching of a social studies unit on this particular theme.

"A Day in Mexico" was presented recently in the junior assembly by the sixth grade pupils in Miss Isabelle McCoy's room. The first scene was a typical market place. Herman Encke was the story teller. In the second scene, Laura Mikos told about the siesta. The fiesta was a colorful sketch in which the entire group participated in song, dance and rhythm band activities. Roberta Hall related the story of Mexican fiestas.

Invitations and programs for the entertainment were designed by the pupils. The sixth grade and Mrs. Iona Stump from Andalusia, and Mr. Louis Benzon and his eighth grade music section were special guests. Parents also attended the performance.

Andalusia

Final plans are being made for a Mexican program to be presented by the sixth grade pupils on Wednesday, April 26, at one-thirty. Mrs. Iona Stump will make a preliminary statement regarding the significance of the social living program. Parents will have an opportunity to examine notebooks and outlines of subject matter included in the study of Mexico. Related art work, murals, papier mache bowls, Mexican designed flower pots and table covers, and maps showing the physical features of the country will be among other pupil-developed materials on display. A pupil committee will serve refreshments to the parent group following the program. Sixth grade mothers who assisted the pupils and their teacher in making costumes for the Mexican song and dance numbers include: Mrs. Thomas Keyser, Mrs. Kurtz King, Mrs. John Brady, Mrs. Harold Weinland, Mrs. Lawrence Connelly and Mrs. Franklin Shoemaker. Miss Mildred Stuber also helped in this project.

tion of her debate by other members of her class with Dr. Walter Mohr in the social studies department.

The keynote address for the student forum will cover many aspects of U. S. - U. S. S. R. relations, as seen by speaker John C. Ross, deputy representative on United Nations and Deputy Secretary General for the 1945 U. N. conference at San Francisco.

George School's baseball team dropped its first game in three 1950 starts when Pennsbury High earned a 6-5 victory on a squeeze play in the top of the 12th inning. Earlier the Thodemen had beaten Lambertville High 3-0 and Hun School 6-5. They were slated to face Girard College, away, on Saturday after playing host to Bryn Athyn Academy on April 18.

Meanwhile Coach Jim Seegers played a role for both sides in helping the George School faculty trim the varsity tennis team, 7-2, in an informal match last Saturday which was a tune-up for the varsity schedule that begins Saturday when the netmen, headed by Captain Ted Burr, play Haverford School at George School.

Coach Stanley Sutton's track team, opening on Tuesday at Lansdale High, was also listed for double duty this week, meeting Perkiomen School at home this Saturday.

Council Rock

The annual Temple Press Conference was held April 19, at Temple University, Philadelphia. Included in the day were sectional meetings, contests, group discussions and the judging of school newspapers.

The morning session was taken up with a tournament which was divided into five classifications. Representing Council Rock High School at the meeting were: reporting, Marion Doan; editorial writing, Richard Magee; front page make-up, Ann Cail; proof reading, Polly Williams and sports reporting, Russell Tomlinson.

The afternoon was dedicated to judging papers represented at the conference, and group discussions. Mr. Robert K. Austin, advisor for the Council Rock school newspaper, Smoke Signals, chaperoned the group and attended meetings concerning his position.

Rohm & Haas Declares $1 Share Quarterly Dividend

PHILADELPHIA, Apr. 20—After the annual meetings of the stockholders and the Board of Directors of Rohm & Haas Company were held yesterday, Otto Haas, the president of the company made the following announcement:

All of the officers and directors of the company were re-elected and the directors declared dividends as follows: The regular $1.00 per share quarterly dividend was declared on the 4% Cumulative Preferred Stock, Series A, $100 par value.

A dividend on the $20 par value Common Stock was declared at the rate of 40c a share. The quarterly dividend rate of 40c represents an increase of 15c per share over the 25c quarterly rate in effect since 1948.

Mr. Haas, president of the company, stated that the directors felt that the higher rate could be maintained this year without limiting the construction and expansion program now in progress. A quarterly dividend rate of 40c a common share provides a return to the stockholders of about 4% a year on the book value of the common stock.

The cash dividends will be payable on June 1 to stockholders of record at the close of business on May 12, 1950.

Child's Literary Interests

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

IF a parent or teacher inquired about ways of widening the literary interests of a child ten or fifteen years of age, the inquiry hardly would arouse astonishment. But when a mother seriously asks how she might widen the literary interests of her baby girl, 21 months old, so this child will enjoy hearing stories as well as nursery rhymes, the question may strike one as somewhat unusual. Yet it is sensible.

Before getting to this problem, the mother writes: "I've become an interested reader of your column since I discovered you have so many practical and helpful suggestions. My husband and I tried your suggestion about teaching the tot to eat well. We are happy that our vegetable problem (the only trouble we really had) is a thing of the past." (Others may receive my bulletin, "Eating Problems: Their Prevention and Correction," in a stamped envelope sent me in care of this paper.)

Looking at Pictures

"My daughter has been interested in looking at pictures in magazines since she was 10 months old. Last Christmas she received many books but the only ones she's interested in my reading to her are those containing nursery rhymes. She will sit for hours hearing the same rhymes over and over.

"I know it's natural for a child to prefer rhythmic reading at first, but I wonder if I shouldn't be starting with stories. She always chooses the rhymes whenever I agree to read to her. Please send in the enclosed stamped envelope your leaflet, 'Books from Which to Read to the Baby and Young Child.' I did and anybody else may have it in like manner.

Would Be Happy

Now what as follows I replied:
Most mothers would be happy if their child so young would listen eagerly to nursery rhymes. Since she so enjoys rhythm why not read to her some of the choice poems from "The Garden of Verses" by Robert Louis Stevenson and from "When We Were Very Young" by A. A. Milne? "Johnny Crow's Garden" by Leslie Brooks, though in verse, is good for prose preparation. Try that child soon on a well-pictured copy of "The Three Bears," "The Three Pigs," "Henny Penny," "The Little Red Hen" and the like.

Don't be discouraged if your child at first loses interest after you have read a few sentences from such a story. Just put the book away and bring it back later. Then read the same sentences again and quit again when her interest lags. Always start at the beginning. I did exactly this with one of our grandchildren when he was 14 months of age and it worked. Gradually he wanted me to read farther and farther, and finally to the end of the story. It all developed over a period of four days.

Many a little child as old as three or four never has been read to, though he may be very bright. Occasionally the mother will try him a bit but if he does not respond at once she will give up, supposing he may never want to hear her read to him. Many mothers say of such a child, "He won't be still long enough to listen." But he will if tried often enough and patiently enough. Once this child begins to listen he will begin to quiet down quickly and for longer and longer periods. His learning to enjoy listening to stories read may become one of the very best ways to quiet down a jittery youngster and to cultivate poise and concentration in him. See, too, how precious a story may be to a tot who enjoys it, if he had grown weary, whiny and generally out of sort. Better than a sleeping pill for a mother can be a story read to a jittery child.

BEAUTY PARADE

By Max Factor, Jr.

(Famous Make-up Advisor to the Screen Stars now writing for INS)

HOLLYWOOD, (INS) — Chances are that your hair is considerably shorter than it was a year ago.

It is almost as certain, if this is the case, that you are brushing your hair less frequently than you did when your tresses were longer. Time and time again I have observed that women just can't get away from the notion that short hair doesn't need brushing as much as longer locks do.

This is a great mistake. Brushing is a definite contributor to hair beauty. The beautiful tresses apparent on the most famously lovely of Hollywood's stars could not long go on presenting such a high degree of beauty without liberal and regular use of this one simple procedure. And it must be noted that Hollywood's glamour-conscious stars definitely haven't given up their regular brushing, just because they may be wearing their tresses styled short.

While on this subject of hair brushes, it is logical to proceed on to the subjects of brushes in general. There are several kinds which can greatly aid in furthering your beauty.

A powder brush can remove surplus face powder more effectively and leave the face much smoother than can be done with a powder puff alone.

Lipstick can be applied more glamorously and economically with a lipstick brush than it can by direct application of the lipstick.

Hand brushes can aid in removing roughness and grime from the hands, elbows, and knee-caps much more effectively than any of these tasks can be accomplished with a wash cloth, or fingertip massage.

The quality of the brushes used in any of the grooming and beautifying processes is one of the utmost importance. Inferior brushes aren't a bargain, no matter how little you may have paid for them. Such brushes will seldom efficiently perform the task they are supposed to, even when brand new, and they never last as long as one of superior quality.

DOLLAR VALUE

MANILA — (INS) — Value of the American dollar on the Philippine blackmarket has dropped nearly 80 per cent according to Philippine Finance officials. Originally, the U. S. dollar was sold for 2.8 pesos as against the official rate of 2 to 1. But Fiscal officials claim the dollar has dropped to 2.1 pesos on the blackmarket because of strict government measures that prevent dollars from leaving the Philippines.

52 GIRLS REPORT FOR BRISTOL HIGH SOFTBALL SEASON

Fifty-two girls reported to Coach Barbara Yerkes in preparation of the forthcoming Bristol High softball season. The localites were supposed to have opened their season today but the tilt was called off because of Schoolmen's week. As Miss Yerkes will be with the senior class in Washington next week's game was also postponed. This means that Bristol will open its season against Bristol Township on May 2nd.

During the drilling sessions the past week, Coach Yerkes has sliced her squad to 30 players.

Mainstay of Coach Yerkes' pitching staff is "Connie" Clapham who has done the hurling for the past two seasons. She again will be used as a starting pitcher. Joan Meyers and Lucy Liszewski, who twirled for Township last season are also candidates for mound duty.

Others on the squad are: Dot Bailey, Marion Barth, Mary Lou Bock, "Jacky" Gilardi, Joan Henderson, Helene Miller, Rose Recca, and Barbara Schaum, all seniors; Adele Bock, Joan Braker, Betty Carter, May Daughtrey, Marjorie Gill, Lois Glammom, Joan Meyers, Shirley Morrell, Shirley Stack, Julia Zanni, and Lucy Liszewski, juniors; Peggy Bauman, Rose Marie Cuttione, Kay Fisher, Margaret Adams, Eleanor Timko, Anna Sabol, Ann Ardrey, and Kay David, sophomores.

The schedule is as follows:

Date	Opponent	Place
May 2	Township	away
May 4	Southampton	home
May 9	New Hope	away
May 11	Bensalem	away
May 18	Council Rock	home
May 22	Pennsbury	home

ST. ANN'S POSTS ITS LEAGUE FRANCHISE

St. Ann's A. A. posted its franchise in the Trenton Industrial League last night at a meeting in Trenton. The "Saints" won the regular season crown of the Jersey circuit last season but were eliminated in the playoffs.

Manager John "Spike" Scordia announced last night that an important practice for candidates will be held Saturday afternoon at one o'clock on Leedom's field. Anyone interested in trying out for the team may report.

The "Saints" intend to use Memorial Park field for its home games, which will be scheduled on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, and Sunday afternoons.

RECORDS FALL IN BOWLING TEST ON LOCAL ALLEYS

Two records for the Bristol Recreation Center Alleys were shattered last night in the Bristol Bowling Leagues tournament now under way and which is expected to be finished this week.

The Auto Boys five-man team, consisting of Larry Harrison, Leon Plavin, "Hank" Nagel, Art Krames and "Vince" Dutavich, toppled over enough pins for a 3264 score to set a new all-time high. The scratch score of the team was 2958.

The high score put the Auto Boys contingent in line for the top prize money and the local Chamber of Commerce trophy. Previous to last night, Rech's Grill, of Morrisville, was high. In adding the Auto Boys break the alley record, Harrison and Nagel both had three-game scores of over 650.

The other new record for the alleys was set by the two-man team of "Bob" Robinson and "Milt" Jones. Major League bowlers, who knocked over 1318 pins. "Vince" Arch and "Pete" Chapman, of Morrisville, had led previously in this section with a 1280 score.

"Milt" Jones, who bowls for Badenhausen during the season, took the lead in the three-game high with a round 700, one pin more than "Dick" McKinney made on Tuesday night. However, Jones' score is not a new alley record as Anthony Boccardo had a three-game score of 742 when he bowled his perfect 300 score during the season.

Second in the five-team event last night was the Machine Shop, Red, of the Rohm & Haas League, with a 2996 score. Greenlee's Landscape, of Morrisville, was third with a 2981 count.

Andrew MacArthur, of the Leedom's team, was second to Jones in the three-game scores with 664, while Larry Harrison, of Auto Boys, was third with 660.

In the two-man teams, W. Johnson and J. Mercer, of Morrisville, were second with 1226 while F. Greenlee and W. Barber, of Morrisville, were third with 122.

"Milt" Jones also had the high single game with a 257 score, tying "Bill" Wichser, who made the same score last Sunday.

WHAT IS FINAL WORD ON BIG LEAGUE BASEBALL FOR 1950?

What, if anything, will get the Cincinnati Reds, St. Louis Browns, Chicago Cubs and Washington Senators out of the American and National League basements? The following article, final story in the International News Service of six "last looks" at the forthcoming pennant races, discusses the clubs that finished seventh and eighth in 1949.

By Charles Eibstein
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Apr. 20 — (INS) — The unprecedented dogfights for the American and National League pennants in 1949 led to more or less general oversight of two similar battles for last place.

In the American League, St. Louis finished seventh, three games ahead of last-place Washington and ten games out of sixth place.

In the National, Cincinnati finished seventh, one game ahead of last-place Chicago and nine games out of sixth place.

Such stirring conflicts below stairs should not go unwarded, and they didn't. People paid to see the Browns, Reds, Senators and Cubs.

The Cubs, in fact, drew more than one million more customers for the second year in a row while finishing last for the second year in a row, a record without parallel in baseball lore. They could make it three years in a row on both counts in 1950, too.

Cub success or lack of it in 1950 will depend on a vague infield and a vaguer pitching staff whose star, lefthander Johnny Smitz, had to get hot at season's end to tote 11 victories in 1949.

Cub manager Frank Frisch does have outfield talent, led by Hank Sauer and Andy Pafko, but the Cubs' chief competitors, the Reds, also have got some power in the outfield.

Luke Sewell, taking over as manager of the Reds, seems slightly stronger than Chicago in practically all phases. The pitching, topped by ancient Ken Raffensberger, could be passing fair. Indeed, if Sewell Blackwell returns to erstwhile form, Cincinnati could make one whole of a swipe at the first division.

As much can be said neither for the St. Louis Browns nor the Washington Senators. The two of them appear to be so far removed from the rest of the American League as to make feasible a project whereby they might organize a league of their own.

In view of the modicum of major league talent on the two clubs, it is something of a pity that Washington pitchers' Rae Scarborough and Joe Haynes, ailing first baseman Eddie Robinson, and possibly rookie outfielder Irv Noren; St. Louis outfielder Roy Sievers and pitcher Ned Garver; and perhaps a few others, should have to suffer. If they do improve this year, the miracle will not lie with themselves. It will rest in the collapse of somebody else.

The varsity baseball team has already completed two games, losing to Morrisville and Bristol. Its game with Bensalem Township was called due to rain.

Capt. Betty Coyer, of Valley Forge Hospital, Phoenixville, spent a few days last week as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lewis, Beaver street.

NEIDIG RE-ELECTED SUPT OF SCHOOLS

Unanimously Named At A Special Meeting of The
Quakertown Board

PROBLEMS DISCUSSED

QUAKERTOWN, Apr. 20—Joseph S. Neidig was unanimously re-elected superintendent of Quakertown school district, at a special session of the school board.

Being a third class school district, Quakertown borough is entitled to its own Superintendent of Schools operating independently of the county office. Mr. Neidig was elected to the newly created post a year ago.

Much discussion at the meeting of the board, was given to the problems confronting not only Quakertown district, but all the rural districts on the question of forming a joint school district.

In going over the budget for the coming school year, it was found that neither the per capita nor the real estate levies of the borough will be increased. The tax rate, 39 mills, remains the same as last year. The total budget, which calls for an estimated $439,615.00, shows an increase of about eight thousand dollars over last year's figure.

General control is roughly the same as last year, but a slight increase is shown in the cost of instruction. This is due chiefly to the mandated increases in salaries. Also provided for in the new budget is an increase in insurance.

There will be an increase in State appropriation this year because of the recreational program which is carried on at the local schools. During the new school year, Quakertown school district should realize approximately $104,000.00 in State appropriations.

Contract for 350 tons of coal for the school district was awarded to Wilcox Company at the cost of $5.40 per ton.

Mr. Neidig reported that tuition bills amounting to $8,094.00 have been sent out to non-resident students.

The treasury balance was given as $36,179.83, disbursements for the month, $27,335.34, and receipts, $63,515.17.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO PA. FARMERS

By Al Spivak
(I. N. S. Penna. Farm Editor)
HARRISBURG, Apr. 20—(INS)—The Production and Marketing Committee believes potato growers are confused about a Federal Marketing agreement and would like clarification of the issues.

"Evidence developed at a proposed hearing May 22 will be of vast importance to potato growers who will have to decide the matter by ballot," says Chairman Clyde A. Zehner.

"With the States surrounding us working under marketing agreements it was the opinion of our committee of farmers that growers should have full information before casting a ballot which could isolate them from the established practices in neighboring states."

Zehner says farmers should know that according to an announcement of U. S. Agriculture Secretary Brannan no price supports will be available to the State's potato growers unless they organize under marketing agreements and thus assure consumers of a quality product.

"Potato growers who have enjoyed a good price in the market place during the war and post war period have benefitted from price support programs, whether they have cooperated with the Government in production control or acreage allotment programs or not," Zehner says.

"It is true that only 647 Pennsylvania growers took advantage of the program in 1949, and that the Commodity Credit Corporation made purchases of less than one and three-quarter million bushels," Zehner points out.

"It likewise is true that the purchase of less than 10 per cent of the crop at 60 per cent of parity governed the price received by all growers."

"We urge all growers to plan within the allotments set up by their county committees, so that they may be eligible for price support if or when marketing agreements are approved by the required 67 per cent of the voting growers."

Pennsylvania chicken - of - tomorrow contest officials will judge an all-time-high entry of 269 lots of 15 birds each, according to E. J. Lawless, Jr., head of the Poultry and Egg Division of the State Agriculture Department's Bureau of Markets.

The June 17 contest will be followed June 20 by an auction of contest birds, with hopes for bettering the world record price of $10 per pound paid for the grand champion.

LEBANON, Ore. — (INS) — Lebanon police looked for a week for a lost automobile. It was their own and only patrol car. The new car being shipped from California was still packed in its freight car when it was found mistakenly headed southward.

Pennsylvania Markets Bureau Director E. R. Stamp has cautioned against the sale of pink-dyed potatoes, illegal in Pennsylvania, which have appeared in retail selling-points in the State. Although no food poisoning is in evidence, Stamp said, the fact that the spuds are not labeled to declare presence of color and preservative is a violation of the law.

JAPANESE TAUGHT TO HATE THE AMERICANS

College Exchange Student Tells of Things in His Country

AN INTERESTING TALK

DOYLESTOWN, Apr. 20 — "Japan and Her People," was the topic of Robert Y. Nishiyama who addressed the local Rotary club here.

Mr. Nishiyama was born and raised in Tokyo, served in the recent World War, and is now a student at Lafayette College on a scholarship set up by an American family.

The purpose of this scholarship is to promote a better understanding between the people of the East and those of the West. Mr. Nishiyama, or "Bob" as he is better known, is the first recipient of this scholarship.

"Situations as Japan is, on the volcanic ledge of the western Pacific," said Mr. Nishiyama, "has greatly helped to develop a decidedly fatalistic attitude in the minds of her people. Being greatly over crowded, the people have to work exceedingly hard to get a living and then, in a moment an earthquake, typhoon, tidal wave, volcanic eruption, or some other natural disaster will wipe out everything they have. Since this happens so often, the people have developed the 'nothing I can do about it' attitude."

"In discussing the Japanese people, one must keep in mind that until the middle of the nineteenth century, when Commodore Perry, of the United States, opened two Japanese ports to trading with the outside world, Japan was a feudal country, dominated by a strong military class, and completely shut off from the rest of the world."

By the turn of the century, Japan had become quite modernized in many ways, but her government, while outwardly a constitutional monarchy, was actually a military oligarchy. The influential group became extremely nationalistic and strongly anti-American and even anti-English. They purposely taught the people many wrong ideas about our country and our intentions toward Japan with the result that they naturally thought we were their avowed enemies and it was their duty to destroy America.

With the defeat of Japan in the recent war, the people began to criticize the government and refuse to obey various decrees which it issued, the speaker said. The occupation of Japan by American troops has done much to change the minds of the people toward America and Americans. The Japanese are in daily contact with Americans, soldiers and civilians, and they are realizing that they want to help them and not to harm or hinder them in any way. The majority of the Japanese public believes that General MacArthur is doing a fine job in helping Japan to take her place among the democratic nations of the world.

Visitors and guests included Rotarians Ralph E. Springer and Walter Irwin of the Ardmore club; Walter Hedrick and Philip Naunberg, of the Perkase club, and Alfred Neal, of the New Hope club; Horace J. Bannister, guest of Dr. Allen Moore, David Boyd and Elmer Wasserman, guests of Dr. George T. Hayman, and the Junior Rotarian of the month, John Fryling.

FISH RATE HIGH IN FOOD VALUES; SERVE IT OFTEN

By Miss Frances Vannoy

Home Economics Extension Rep. Fish is an excellent food and deserves a prominent place in family menus. Fish is a high-quality protein food and a rich source of vitamins.

Besides its vitamin and protein content, fish supplies some of the much needed minerals, such as calcium, iron, copper, and iodine. The bones of canned fish have been made soft by cooking and can be eaten because they are high in calcium.

The most important point in fish cookery is don't overcook. Cook just until the fish is tender and can be flaked easily. This leaves the fish moist and tender and brings out its most delicate flavor.

Fresh, frozen, or canned fish may be used for variety. Try the following recipe for salmon timbales, served with Mock Hollandaise Sauce.

Salmon Timbales

1 1/2 cups canned salmon
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup soft bread crumbs
1/4 teaspoon salt

2 egg yolks
2 egg whites
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Soak bread crumbs in milk. Mash salmon with a fork. Add salt, chopped parsley, lemon juice, and egg yolks. Mix and add bread crumb mixture. Fold in beaten egg whites. Pour mixture into greased custard cups or muffin tins and bake in a pan of hot water in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F about 30 minutes. Turn timbales onto a hot platter. Serve at once with Mock Hollandaise Sauce.

Mock Hollandaise Sauce

1 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt

Melt 2 tablespoons butter, blend in flour. Add salt. Gradually add milk and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from fire. Stir in beaten egg yolks, butter, and lemon juice. Serve hot.

Fortune smiles on those who make a habit of reading Courier Want Ads.

FLAKO PIE CRUST MIX

JUST ADD WATER—ROLL and BAKE

So easy to use—just add water, roll and bake. So sure in results—because the ingredients are precision-mixed. So delicious—because it contains only finest quality flour, baking powder, shortening and salt.

STAYS WHITE AND BRIGHT FOR YEARS

cleans itself!

1. All paints collect dust and dirt during the first few months.

3. Rains wash off this powder and with it, much of the accumulated dirt and grime.

2. With Du Pont House Paint, a fine white powder forms on the surface after a few months.

4. Self-Cleaning leaves surface clean and white... keeps it sparkling white for years. This cleaning process is gradual and does not adversely affect the long life of the paint.

For lasting home beauty, make sure your painter uses Du Pont House Paint. Made of an exclusive Du Pont combination of pigments and oils, it literally sheds dirt and dust during every heavy rain... leaves your home handsomely white, sparkling bright for years. Normally, this "Self-cleaning" action starts in a few months on most surfaces. However, excessive soot or heavy shade, or stains from metal surfaces such as copper screening, may interfere with or delay the process.

Consider the other advantages of Du Pont House Paint. As it keeps your house beautiful for years, it also protects against rust, rot and decay. Smooth, easy application, excellent spread and high-hiding—all these factors work in your favor when Du Pont House Paint goes on. It's available in "Self-cleaning" tints as well as white.

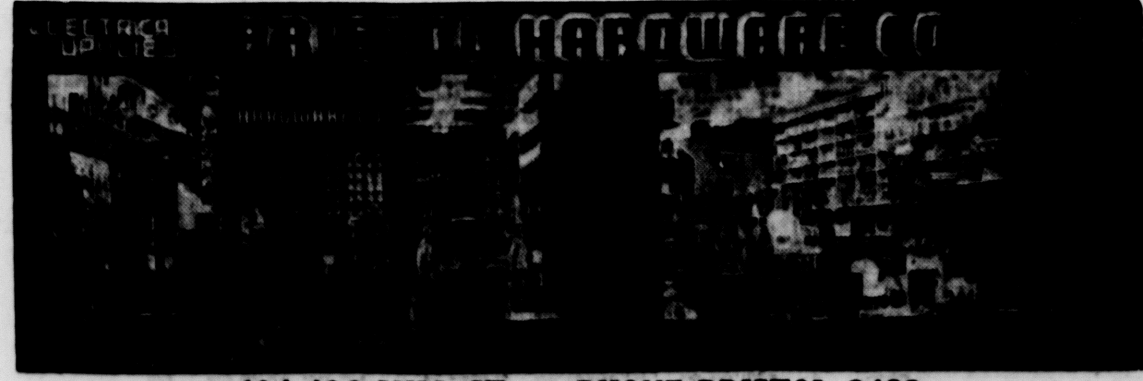

And here's a tip for your painter: When working on new wood or excessively weathered paint films, a prime coat of Du Pont House Paint Primer is recommended. It assures maximum adhesion and performance of the finish coat.

UNDERWRITERS GIVE REPORT TO PERKASIE

Water Service and Fire Apparatus Scored In A Check-Up

ADVISE LADDER TRUCK

PERKASIE, Apr. 20—A report of the recently completed Underwriters' survey of Perkaskie Fire Company and the local water supply indicates that Perkaskie's fire protection facilities are considerably below required standards.

The report showed that the water supply together with the ability of the pumps rate 53 per cent deficient, the distribution of water mains and service is 57 per cent deficient and dead ends in the water service constitute a 26 per cent deficiency.

Gate valve and hydrant spacing on the water lines are rated as "good" and the pumping capacity of Perkaskie's apparatus is adequate but the pumps "are not kept in tip-top condition."

Because of small mains and old pipes, the ability of the system to deliver an adequate fire demand flow is below requirements.

In the report is a recommendation that the Perkaskie Fire Company's oldest pump be replaced by a modern ladder truck. The company's ladder service was rated 100 per cent deficient.

The hose supply is 37 per cent below standard requirements and the firemen could strengthen their efficiency by regular drills and practices.
